C. Francis Barnard, M. D.

SURGEON DENTIST.

DR. BARNARD HAS HAD FOR several months the "Perkins Hyatt" or "Celluloid Base," the newest and latest material adapted to the mounting of whole sets of teeth; he is also using "Whalebone-Rubber," which is rapidly supplanting, for single dentures or partial sets the best vulcanites of the last 25 years.

We cheerfully add Dr. B's card to our columns, convinced that his good taste and judgment, united to natural skill and ingenuity, aided by an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, render his services more valuable and reliable than those of any other Dentirt on the Sound, Coast or Island.

Dr. B's large experience may be readily seen in the happy and natural expression given his patrons by his life-like insertion of artificial Teeth.

The public may rest assured of patience, gentleness and undivided attention while under the Dr's hands, and that he will ever strive to be foremost in adopting helps and hints touching his own interest and that of his patrons.

Daily British Colonist.

SATURDAY MORNING, MARCH 15TH, 1873.

L. P. FISHER, 20 and 21 New Merchants' Exhange, is our authorized Agent n San Francisco.

100,000 Dollars Reward.

There are some twenty-eight thousand acres of most fertile land in what is known as the Sumas District, on the Lower Fraser. Less than eight thousand acres of it has passed from the Crown into private hands and constitutes one of the most thrifty, prosperous agricultural settlements in British Columbia. The twenty thousand is equally fertile. Why does it still linger in the Crown? Simply because it is more subject to overflow during the season of the year when the waters of the Fraser are at their height. A dyke, two and a half miles in length and with an average height of six feet, would bring all that twenty thousand acres into market. It would be eagerly taken at five dollars an acre. Those acquainted with the nature of the soil and the eligibility of the location will agree with us that ten dollars an acre would not be an extravagant valuation. But let us, for present purposes, keep to the five dollars. Twenty thousand acres at five dollars, would be one hundred thousand dollars. That is to say, land, presumably valueless now, would become worth one hundred thousand dollars by the mere construction of a dyke two and a half miles in length and six feet in height, provided, of course, with proper flood-gates, &c., where it crosses the Sumas river, at a probable width of one hundred feet. But, even that is not the full measure of results. Much of the eight thousand acres already alienated from the Crown is also subject to overflow, and the owners of it would gladly contribute their quota towards supplying the means of reclamation. It is safe to say that from this source enough, and more than enough, could be relied upon to create a fund sufficient to maintain the works, when once constructed, and to survey and manage the lands still unsold. Thus, then, the twenty thousand acres would only be chargeable with the first cost of the work. How much would it cost? Ten thousand dollars? To be perfectly safe, write it down twenty. That would still leave rather a handsome margin for profit, —would it not? Suppose a private company undertook the enterprise, there would be the purchase price of the land, twenty thousand dollars; the cost of the work, twenty thousand; making forty thousand dollars as capital invested, and leaving sixty thousand dollars as clear profit;---and this, too, be it remembered, reckoning the land at the minimum rate of five dollars an acre. If, on the other hand, the work were undertaken by the Government, there would be gained to the revenue the sum of eighty thousand dollars from lands now lying waste, and worse than waste, because impeding the onward march of settlement. Would that be the sum total of gain to the Province? It would, indeed, be the smallest part of it. The principal gain is not to be measured by the mere money price of the land thus reclaimed, but by the thrifty community of, say, one hundred families thereby established in a condition of wellbeing. To the State that would be a gain alongside of which the eighty thousand dollars would shrivel into very insignificance. Well, how shall it be done? By the Government, or by a company? Unfortunately for either, the excellent bill introduced by Mr. McCreight, last session, was denuded of the very provisions adopted to this case. As the Dyking Act now stands it does not appear to supply machinery by which the work referred to could be undertaken either by the Government or by a Company. This is much to be regretted. The reader has seen what impartant results could be obtained in a single settlement. But the case cited is by no means a solitary one. The very next settlement below it, Matsqui, is so similar in this respect, that what we have said of Sumas might be said of it; with this important difference, however, that the area of land in Matsqui needing to be reclaimed is greater than that in Sumas. It seems scarcely open to question that, with proper provision for such works being undertaken by companies, foreign capital would be readily embarked in reclaiming the rich delta lands of the Lower Fraser; although we incline to the opinion that, if properly undertaken by the Provincial Government or by Municipal Governments, the results would prove in a still higher degree beneficial to the country at large. The subject is certainly one deserving of earnest thought; and we hope to see a well-digested measure submitted to the Legislature at its next sitting, providing for the carrying out of such works by the Government, or else presenting such proper inducements as may lead capital to seek employment therein. It is often urged as an objection to any scheme of Immigration that there is no suitable land immediately available for settlement in localities easy of access. Now, what could more effectually remove all such objections than the carrying out of work which would cause several hundreds of the most desirable homesteads to spring into existence as if by magic on the banks of the Lower Fraser? And such land! Two-thirds of it as good as clear. Neither stone nor stump to annoy the farmer as he goes over his broad acres whistling at the plough. Soil rich enough to produce enormous crops of everything for which the climate is adapted, and deep enough to last for generations without manureing. With steamboat landings everywhere, and a choice of markets within easy reach. Should the work of reclamation be undertaken by the Government, the terms of payment could be made to suit the Immigrant. And surely if the public mind is ever to be reconciled to the creation of department of Finance and Agriculture, that will be best accomplished by undertaking such important and highly reproductive works as those referred to. We are reminded that the present Ministry expressed themselves distinctly opposed to such works being undertaken by the Government. But, then, they have got a Minister of Finance and Agriculture on their hands now, and must make work for him somehow.

FRENCH MEDICINES,

Prepared by

GRIMAULT & CO.,

Pharmaceutical Chemists,

8, Rue Vivienne,

PARIS.

OF ALL THE MEDICINES OFFERED TO the public for many years past, none have met with such favorable reception, or as been so generally approved by the Medical Profession as those prepared by Messrs. Grimault & Co.

The model Laboraties of this firm, situated at Neuilly-sur-Seine, and managed by Dr. Leconte, Professor in the Faculty of Medicine, ex-Pharmacist of the Hospitals of Paris, and formerly Assistant to Dr. Claude Bernard, Professor of Physiology at the College of France, offers guarantees to be found in no other establishment.

Among other preparations we may specially mention:—

Leras' Liquid Phosphate of Iron.

It contains the constitutive elements of the bones and of the blood, add is the most rational of all chalybeates. It may be prescribed for the most delicate young females whose development has been retarded; for women suffering from stomach complaints, anæmia; for pale and sickly children deprived of appetite; and as its principal action is to restore to impoverished blood the iron in which it is deficient, and to the bones the phosphate that forms their base, it is recommended for debilitated persons whether their debility proceeds from disease or from any other cause. Its use is always attended with surprising results.

GRIMAULT & CO.'s
Syrup of Hypophosphite of Lime.

An excellent remedy for all affections of the chest; it relieves coughs, effectually prevents nocturnal perspiration and restors the patient's strength. This syrup is the only one which, ever since 1857, has invariably been attended with satisfactory results—a fact due to the purity of the hypophosphite employed. Be sure to observe that it bears the signature of Grimault & Co.

GRIMAULT & CO.'s
Iodized Syrup of Horse Radish.

Considered the best substitute for Cod-liver Oil. It has been ascertained by experiments made in the principal Hospitals of Paris that this syrup has always produced results superior to those obtained from the above-mentioned Oil, which patients find so disagreeable to take.

Not a single instance can be adduced in which pale lymphatic children, subject to swelling of the glands, to eruption of the skin, of the head or the face, or other inconveniences of a weak constitution, who have taken this syrup without deriving signal benefit from its use.

GRIMAULT & CO.'s
Pepsine Digestive Powders, Pills, Elixir and Wine.

Pepsine is one of the most recent scientific discoveries in theraputics. Acting chiefly on the organs of digestion, it possesses the property of effecting digestion by its innate virtues. It removes all the inconvencies of difficult digestion and even prevents the nausea to which pregnant women are liable.

The researches on pepsine made at the College of France by Dr. Leconte, in conjunction with Professor Claude Bernard, must secure the preference for our preparation or pepsine.

Lagasse's Syrup and Paste of Sea Pine Sap.

Employed with success in the trratment of catarrh, bronchitis, hæmoptysis, and the different stages of phthisis.

It cures spitting of blood, the most obstinate coughs, alteration of tha voice, oppression and pains of the chest, the nocturnal paroxysms of asthmatics, and modifies the more serious lesions of the resiratory organs.

GRIMAULT & Co.'s
Matico Injection and Capsules.

Composed of the essence extracted from the plant so called, they have been constantly employed with the most brilliant success in a certain class of contagious diseases.

They combine extraordinary efficacy with the advantage of never causing nausea, eructations, or pains in the stomach, as do the gelatinous capsules which contain Balsam of Copahu in a liquid state; or the strictures that result from the use of injections having a metallic basis.

GRIMAULT & Co.'s
Pectoral Lozenges of Lactucarium and Cherry Laurel.

This delicious comfit, containing the two most soothing substances of the whole Materia Medica is employed with success against coughs, influenza bronchitis, hooping coughs, &c.

Arthma. Asthma.
GRIMAULT & Co.'s
Indian Cigarettes of Cannabis Indica.

All the means hitherto employed to relieve Asthma have been only palliatives in varied forms, based on belladona, stramonium, nicotiana, or opium. Recent experiments made in the Paris Hospitals have proved that our Cigarettes made of the extract of Indian Hemp possess remarkable virtues against this complaint, as well as against nervous coughs, chronic laryngitis, hoarseness, loss of voice, facial neuralgia, and insomnonia.

Grimault & Co.'s Guarana.

A single powder of this vegetable production is sufficient to cure instantly the most violent sick headache. It is the most valuable remedy against diarrhœa, dysentery, and all disorders proceeding from derangement of the stomach or bowels. This powder is indispensable for all families, and far more efficacious than opium or sub-nitrate of bismuth.

GRIMAULT & Co.'s
Vermifuge Santonime Dragees.

Under the form of a comfit, equally pleasing to the taste and to the eye, they supply mothers with an easy and perfectly safe means of relieving their young children from intestinal worms, which are often the cause of convulsions.

Paleness of the skin and frequent irritation of the nose are nearly always the certain signs of the presence of worms. Preference ought always to be given in such cases to these dragees, the composition of which is well known and always the same, instead of those which are called vegetable, but often contain calomel or other form of mercury.

GRIMAULT & Co.'s
Newfoundland Cod Liver Oil, and God Liver Oil, with Iodide of Iron.

The Cod-liver Oil which we offer to the profession and the public is especially extracted for our house in Newfoundland, and we can therefore guarantee its altogether exceptional purity.

Our Newfoundland Oil with Iodide of Iron, which contains in every tablespoonful two grains of pure Iodide of Iron, is a valuable resource in lymphatic and scrofulous affections, as also in consumption.

Opinions of the Press.

Duffield was the first to establish the character of Western Hams. His cure is invariably good, none better, and he is emphatically the Western Pioneer in this business. They are especially prepared for summer keeping in hot climates, and are of a texture, tenderness and flavor unsurpassed.—"Cincinnati Gazette."

Duffield's Hams from "Porkopolis" are celebrated over the whole country. We can recommend them for their superior quality and flavor.—"N. Y. Express"

Hams of finer, sweeter flavor we can honestly say we never ate,—"N.Y. Commercial."

A delicious article.—"Baltimore Clipper."

Capital in quality and flavor.—"Liverpool Mercury."

Food for an Emperor.—"Liverpool Albion."

Duffield has had longer experience in ham curing than any other man in this country, and his hams need no recommendation where known.—"National Republican," Washington City.

Duffield's Hams have long been household words in Cincinnati, and Louisville, Ky., and their reputation has been fully sustained here.—"Chicago Tribune." mh7

Municipal Revenue Bylaw.

Following are substantially the provisions of the Bylaw for raising a municipal revenue in this city during the present year:

TRADES LICENCES.

Retail liquor, $100 for every 6 months; wholesale liquor, $25 for every 6 months; billiard saloon, $5 for each table for every six months; bowling alley or rifle gallery, $10 for every year; dance-house $100 for every twelve months: vending or using opium in the preparation of prescriptions of medical proctitioners, $50 for every 6 months; wholesale, or wholesale and retail merchant, $50 for every 6 months; retail $5 for every 6 months; hawker or pedlar, $20 for every 12 months; pawnbroker, $250 for every twelve months; pack-train of more than six animals, freight wagon, stage coach or omnibus, used in transporting goods for profit a distance beyond ten miles from the city, and not paying a merchants' or traders' license, $10 for every 12 months; a pack-train of less than six animals, dray, wagon or omnibus, used in transporting goods or passengers for hire, etc., $5 for every 12 months; livery stable $20 for every 12 months; cattle drover, $20 for every 12 months; bank, $200 for every 6 months, and for every branch, $50 for every 6 months; barrister, attorney or solicitor, $25 for every 6 months; conveyancer or land agent, $25 for every 6 months; auctioneer, $100 for every 12 months and 1½ per cent. on all sales exclusive of sales of real estate. These are all payable in advance and whoever shall be found practising any of the above trades or professions without a licence shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding $250 for every offence. The granting of retail liquor licenses is subject to the same provisions as are imposed in the Act, and such licenses are to be issued on the 30th June and 31st Dec. The usual provision is made for imposing and collecting fines, obtaining returns, and the like. Such are the points of the Bylaw which appear to be of general Interest to the public.

WHOLESOME LAW.—A bill to punish wife-beaters, which has been recently introduced in the Illinois State Legislature contains the following provision: "That when any person shall commit, or cause to be committed, an assault and battery upon the person of his wife, he shall, upon conviction, he punished by being publicly whipped upon the naked back with a common rawhide whip, receiving for each offence not less than five nor more than twenty-five blows, in the discretion of the magistrate or Court before whom tried."

THE DREDGER.—The two strings of buckets were kept running yesterday and six punts' full of deposits were towed outs'de by the Grappler and dumped in the outer harbor at a point between 2 and 3 miles distant. Every part of the ponderous machinery appears to work well and constant work for a month or two will not fail to decidedly improve the navigation of the harbor. Shoal Point, with its inexhaustible supply of clams, would appear to be doomed.

THEATRE ROYAL.—To-night the Waldron Troupe will give another of their popular performances entitled "Wind and the Whirlwind." There will also be a concluding farce, and, judging from the talent hitherto displayed by this excellent troupe, we look forward to no small enjoyment at the Theatre—the more as we regretfully thought we had the last of this agreeable amusement.

H. M. S. SCOUT will not return from Honolulu until she has been relieved by H.M.S. Tenedos.

THE steamer Cariboo left for Burrard Inlet yesterday afternoon.

Sumas and Chillwhack.

In these important settlements everything is prosperous. Settlers are gradually going in, although it is now difficult to find land not subject to overflow during spring freshets. Although the season has been more than ordinarily severe, yet stock has wintered well. Chadsey's mill has given the greatest satisfaction. It is in every respect first class, and makes flour quite equal to the best imported brands. It has demonstrated a long doubted fact, viz, that wheat grown on the Lower Fraser will make good flour, unmixed with the product of higher and drier latitudes. The demonstration of this fact, coupled with the facilities now presented for manufacturing flour, has, as might be supposed, imparted a fresh stimulus to wheat-growing on the Lower Fraser. Several of the farmers have sent to Oregon for improved kinds of wheat, and there is every prospect of a greatly increased production of breadstuffs next season. The formation of an Agricultural Society for these settlements is also on the tapis, indicating, as it does, deepening interest and healthy progress in agriculture. Steps are being taken with a view to constituting Sumas and Chillwhack a Municipality. These are unmistakable indications of progressive enlightment and well-being, which we would be rejoiced to see more generally developed in other parts of the Province.

Police Court.

FRIDAY, March 14th.

William Meshell, on remand from the 11th inst., charged with breaking furniture was remanded till Tuesday next.

The Shield of Health.

Debility opens the door to disease. Nor is this all. When the door has been opened and the terrible intruder has entered, physical prostration renders its progress to the citadel of life comparatively easy. Therefore bar the door, and if possible keep it barred; or, if the enemy has already secured a foothold, rally the strength of the system and assist nature to drive out the foe of health and life. The means of doing this is within one's reach. Brace up the physique with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters when there are elements in the air you breathe or the water you drink that are morbid and unwholesome. This is barring the door. Epidemics and endemics will assail in vain the living fortress that is thus protected. It may "laugh a siege to scorn." But if this precautionary measure has been neglected, the seeds of disease can be objected by the said potent vegetable agent that would, if taken earlier, have prevented their obtaining an entrance into the system. The stimulating, invigorating, regulating and purifying properties of this vital elixir, renders it a most formidable antagonist of all debilitating disorders. The rapidity and certainty with which it vanquishes fever and ague, rheumatism, bilious colic, indigestion and nervous debilities, is due in no small degree to the strength it imparts to the muscular fibre, the nerves and the membranes which line the stomach and the bowels. It may be safely said that a course of the Bitters commenced now will be a sure protection against most of the complaints incident to the season.

GREAT BARGAINS.—By the steamer Prince Alfred, Messrs. Turner, Beeton & Turnstall have received an invoice of goods from London, which have been bought much under market prices. They would call particular attention to a very large stock of ECRU and BLACK YAK LACES, which are now the height of fashion in Europe. A very choice lot of Scotch Embroideries, full assortment of Quilted Satin Skirts, which are worn with over-skirt or Polonaise and are the general costume in London and Paris this season; also Roman Scarfs and Shawls &c. The above Goods are now offered at little over half the usual prices. T. B. T. have received new designs in Carpets and Rugs, Patent Umbrellas, Down Quilts, Evening Flowers, &c., and a variety of other goods.

THE TICHBORNE CASE.

Extraordinary Scene in the Court of Queen's Bench.

(From the London Times, Jan. 31.)

COURT OF QUEEN'S BENCH, WESTMINSTER, JAN. 29. (Sittings in Banco, before Mr. Justice BLACKBURN, Mr. Justice MELLOR, Mr. Justice LUSH, and Mr. Justice QUAIN.)

This being the day appointed for the attendance of Mr. Skipworth and the Claimant to answer for alleged contempt of Court, the house was crowded from an early hour with the members of the Bar. Not only were the back rows crowded with the junior Bar, but the front row was filled with Queen's Counsel, as many as could possibly find room, while others were left standing. As to the general public, every inch of available space was filled; and all the entrances were obstructed by crowds eager for admittance. Before the appointed hour, the Claimant, attended by several friends, appeared, and took a seat below the bar facing the Bench; and shortly afterwards Mr. Skipworth, who himself is a member of the Bar, appeared, robed as a barrister, and took his seat by the Claimant's side. The proceedings had originated in this way: On Monday last week, Messrs Onslow and Whalley were fined by this Court for "contempt" in certain observations at meetings held on the 11th and 12th of December last, at one of which Mr Skipworth was chairman. It appeared that this gentleman had for some time taken a strong interest in the case in favor of the Claimant, and in September, last year, at Great Grimsby, spoke on his behalf.

Having heard the sentence passed upon those gentlemen, Mr. Skipworth went down to Brighton next day, and took the chair at a meeting in favour of the Claimant, at which it did not appear that any attacks were made upon the witnesses, but at which he impeached the course taken by this Court as arbitrary and unconstitutional, and proceeded also to impeach the fitness of the Lord Chief Justice for the trial of the case, by reason, as he suggested, of supposed preconceived opinions of the case.

Mr. Hawkins the other day applied for an order that Mr. Skipworth should attend this Court to answer for his observations. The Lord Chief Justice was not then sitting, and Mr. Justice Blackburn, who, as the Senior Puisne Judge, presided, suggested that the Claimant also ought to be ordered to attend, and, although the counsel for the prosecution did not desire it, such was the order made, and, therefore, both the parties attended.

Mr. Hawkins, Q. C., and Mr. C. Bowen appeared for the prosecution; the Attorney-General was not present; Mr. Gray, Q. C., the Solicitor of the Treasury, sat within the bar by the side of Mr. Hawkins, Q. C.

Shortly before half-past 10 the above-mentioned Judges appeared, and took their seats upon the bench, the Lord Chief Justice, it will be observed, being absent when the Judges had taken their seats.

The first things read were the verbatim reports of the speeches of the Claimant and Mr. Skipworth at the Brighton meeting, upon which this application was particularly made, and which was as follows:—

"Mr. Skipworth, who was welcomed with applause, proceeded to address the meeting as follows: Ladies and gentlemen,—It is encouraging to find your reception after the degrading spectacle I may say I have witnessed at the Queen's Bench to-day in London. [Hear, hear.] Nothing less then this—that two honorable Members of Parliament have been brought up, I may say as criminals, for advocating truth and justice throughout the country. [Hear, hear, and applause.] Yes, gentlemen, I say a sad spectacle it is that we have come to this—no less than a great infringement upon our rights and liberties [hear,]; and if they had a just cause on the other side you may depend upon it it would never have been done, [Hear, hear, and a cry of 'never'.] And what do they mean when they rob a man of everything he possesses, while he has to go about the country for a living?—they would even rob him of every friend he possesses. [Applause.] Gentlemen, I went into that Court—I am a perfect stranger, no doubt, to you here—I live a long way off, and I would go a long way to advocate the cause of my friend Sir Roger Tichborne [applause]—I went, gentlemen, into that Court to-day, and I donned my wig and gown, that had lain up for above 20 years, in order to support the cause of my friend Sir Roger Tichborne. [Applause.] I live quietly on my estate in Lincolnshire—I have my home, I have my family and my affairs to attend to, but when duty to my country calls me forth, and when I see such degradation as I witness throughout the land—[hear, hear]—yes, these honorable members of Parliament have been brought up, have been treated as criminals, have had to apologize in the most degrading way, I may say, and have been fined for doing their duty to a fellow-countrymn. [Hear, hear, and applause.] Gentlemen, I was the chairman at that meeting at St. James Hall, where their conduct has been called in question. The Lord Chief Justice of England particularly stated in his judgment how mild and moderate he was to these gentlemen, inasmuch as they had apologized in that way, but it was only an example, and that if anyone else should similarly offend, or be brought up under similar circumstances, they would be visited with the full rigor of the law—not only a fine would be inflicted, but imprisonment. [Cries of shame and hisses.] Gentlemen, I hurl his intimidation back with the contempt that he has treated these members of Parliament. [Loud applause.] I care not for his intimidation. I will stand here when my duty calls me in defiance of his—aye, I will call them vulgar threats. [Renewed applause.] I am not going to be intimidated when I consider that a duty to my country calls me forth. I have a conscience, and that conscience I wish to satisfy. I could see very well there was no chance of any justice being done by these four Judges from the first. It was like appealing to stone walls. I could see that their minds were all made up from the first, and that a conviction they were determined to make. [Hisses and applause.] And what is this but to prevent public free discussion in the country—what we have boasted of as hereditary, as it were, for centuries; and now we are to be put down above all things when truth and justice are advocated. If it was something demoralizing to the country that was to be put down there would be something in it; but you will I am sure answer that when you all assemble here together it is for a good purpose—you wish to know the truth of this mystery that has been going on for so many years. [Applause.] Surely it has gone on long enough. Here these six or seven years has it been going on, and these gentlemen have been up and down the country, end still he is not acknowledged by his name and title. Why it is a disgrace to the country! And if they know, as I know, as well as I stand here and have known long ago, that he is Sir Roger Tichborne, how can they plead ignorance, those people who have had the affairs in their own hands; they have had the affairs is their own hands from the first, six or seven years ago. Why, they must be the most perfect idiots in the world if they don't know now, and have long since. [Applause.] Could a trial like that go on for all that time and all that talent employed—the Judges, the counsel and all concerned—and not know the real state of the case? And so these gentlemen, these two gentlemen who are brought up and sentenced to pay a fine and be threatened to imprisonment, they are to be stopped speaking, and the whole press of the country is allowed to be against Sir Roger Tichborne. (Hisses.) Why don't they take up his case if they wish to do justice? Why is he to be scurrilously treated, I may say, by hundreds of papers in this country? They almost seem to encourage it by their very silence. What are we to consider of the Press of the country who will put down a fallen man, as it were, as they do—what are we to consider? Why, they must be hirelings of the Government—nothing more or less. There are some exceptions, and I hope you have some of them here; for it is a very hard thing indeed to find an honest report of any of these meetings at all. I can only say that had I been the one charged to-day, I would have cut my hand off before I would have acknowledged I had been in error and humbly apologized where there was nothing to apologize for. (Cheers.) They should have sent me into a prison dungeon before I would have acknowledged anything that was untrue. I think the prison cells would be a paradise nearly to the polluted atmosphere in which we seem to live. For what is our country if we cannot boast of it as a country for right and justice? (Hear, hear.) What is a man's property worth if he cannot secure it by proper right and title? I can only say that it comes to this:—If this be Sir Roger Tichborne, as he undoubtedly is, it cannot be anything more than a conspiracy which keeps him out of his estates. But I consider that Lord Chief Justice Cockburn was not a fit person to try anything in connection with the claims of the Tichborne estate. (A cry of 'shame' and hisses.) I am sorry to say he has long since prejudged that case, which disentitles him to sit as an impartial Judge (hisses) when the title is concerned. (Renewed hissing and some applause.) Yes, sir, you may hiss, but I hiss at the Lord Chief Justice."

The report of what was said by the Claimant at the meeting was then read, and it contained these passages:—

"Four years ago the Lord Chief Justice of England publicly denounced me as a rank imposter at his club. I know of others (occasions,) but cannot prove them, so will not. But I can prove that he subsequently, within these last two months, at a party where a lady friend of mine was, distinctly turned around in a very angry manner to those ladies, and said it was a disgrace to mention my name in decent society. ('Oh, oh!') I think I have a right to call on him to answer for contempt of Court. I do not suppose they would grant the warrant, but rest assured I will apply for it. And I maintain, ladies and gentlemen, that he had no right to sit on that bench (to-day). At St. James' Hall my friend Mr. Onslow stated that the Lord Chief Justice was not a fit Justice to sit on my forthcoming trial. He gave as his reasons those I have mentioned, and that he had also, during the late trial, while sitting by the side of Judge Bovill, written on a piece of paper—'Had I been Judge and you leading counsel we would have had this fellow in Newgate long ago.' He was a party concerned, and if he had had the slightest delicacy for his honor he would never have sat on the bench (to-day), So much have I heard that I intend to petition Parliament against his sitting on my forthcoming trial. No doubt I shall be able to prevent him. If I do not I will go into that court without counsel, attorney, or witnesses, and let him crush me as he thinks proper. ('No, no.') If the Lord Chief Justice has to sit and adjudicate on my case I will offer no evidence, but throw myself on the country. (Applause.)"

Mr. Skipworth and the Claimant having made long statements in defense of their position,

Mr. Justice Blackburn—I am reminded by my brother Mellor that Mr. Skipworth is a barrister and ought to know better; but, though a barrister, it is evident that he is no lawyer. (Laughter.)

Mr. Skipworth—I am much obliged to you, my Lord.

Mr. Justice Blackburn then addressed the pair at some length and the proceedings continued with the following:

Mr. Justice Blackburn—Mr. Skipworth, the sentence of the Court upon you is that for this your contempt you be fined £500 and be imprisoned in Holloway Gaol for three months, and until the fine be paid; and for you, Tichborne, Castro, Orton or whatever be your name—

The Claimant—Sir Roger Tichborne, my Lord.

Mr. Justice Blackburn—Well, by whatever name you may be called (a laugh), the sentence of the Court upon you is that you find security and surety for £500, to be of good behaviour for three months, or else that you stand committed for three months.

The Chief Justice's tipstaff now took Mr. Skipworth into custody.

The Claimant desired to know whether Dr. Attwood would be accepted as his security.

Mr. Justice Blackburn said that depends upon the Solicitor for the Treasury, Mr. Gray, Q. C., who was now present.

Mr. Gray, being appealed to, said he had no objection, and

Mr. Justice Blackburn said that Mr. Attwood's recognizance could then be taken, observing, however, that if the Claimant were to attend any of the meetings during the three months the £500 would be forfeited.

Dr. Attwood's recognizance was then taken, and the Claimant was liberated, and made his way through a dense crowd which filled the court and the passages and surrounded the court doors, and drove away amid the cheers of his supporters. Meanwhile the dense audience slowly dispersed, after one of the most exciting days ever known in the Queen's Bench.

A Lover's High-Flown Expression of His Passion gets Him into Trouble.

A case of breach of promise of marriage was recently tried in London. The parties were a dress-maker, who was the daughter of a master builder, and a young man, formerly a green grocer's assistant, but who now is the proprietor of an establishment in Covent Garden. They first met in 1863. The defendant visited the plaintiff at her father's house, and a voluminous correspondence took place between them, extending over a number of years. The first letter read was described as the coolest of the whole, each subsequent letter increasing in warmth and affection. It commenced, "Dear Nelly," and asked her to excuse him for not commencing in the usual orthodox fashion, but it concluded thus: "May the pillow of peace kiss thy cheek—and the pleasure of imagination attend thy dreams. With kindest love, &c." A letter dated February, 1868, was referred to as showing that matters were getting warmer. "Oh, how I long for your company, and to hear your own dear sweet voice! I can't write more, because I have to serve other members of society" (meaning the grocer's shop.) "With fondest love," &c. Another, dated the 31st of March, says, "My dearest Nelly, give me your lovely lips, and your darling heart as a fresh assurance of your love. My precious angel, your fond, affectionate and loving John." Another contained the following—"To the one I love, the one I live for, the one I would die for, if required; ever your affectionate and dear John." The next letter read commenced, "My own darling—do not think that you will tire me in writing. If you were to get a big box of pens, ten thousand bottles of ink, and a thousand quires of paper, you would not write to me more than I should be delighted to read." The last letter read commenced—"My darling, fond, devoted and affectionate Nelly—I sink happily to rest, because to-morrow is Wednesday, and to-morrow will bring you. Sleep on, fair lady, and dream those dreams of universal happiness—no, they are not universal; they are but like the Sabbath, that too quickly passes away." The case was finally settled out of court on the payment of £25 and costs by the defendant. The penalty was certainly richly deserved, as he had, evidently for the sake of filthy lucre, married his master's daughter.

A MINISTER in Wilton having married a young fellow was asked what was his price. The pastor said the law gave him $2. "Well," said the bridegroom, "if the law gives you $2, there's fifty cents, so that now you have two dollars and a half," and before the parson could shut his eyes the married pair were off on their honeymoon.

They render most important services is cases of inflammation of the respiratory and digestive organs, in pregnancy complaints, excessive corpulency, and generally where a soft purgative is required. DIAMOND SPECTACLES

TRADE MARK

THESE SPECTACLES ARE MANUFACtured from "Minute Crystal Pebbles," melted together, and are called Diamond on account of their hardness and brilliancy.

It is well known that spectacles cut from Brazilian or Scotch pebbles are very injurious to the eye because of their polarizing light.

Having been tested with the polariscope, the diamond lenses have been found to admit 15 per cent. less heated rays than any other pebble.

They are ground with great scientific accuracy, are free from chromatic aberrations, and produce a brightness and distinctness of vision not before attained in spectacles.

Manufactured by the Spencer Optical Manufacturing Company, New York.

Registered Office, Columbia Street, New Westminster.

The Fraser River Beet Sugar Company (Limited) has been formed for the purpose of Manufacturing Sugar from Beets, to be grown on land acquired by the Company. consisting of rich alluvial soil well adapted to their growth.

This land contains all the essentials necessary for the cultivation of the best description of Sugar Beet, being very rich in vegetable matter, and experience has shown that it is unexcelled for the purpose. Large tracts of equally valuable land can be had on very favorable terms; certainly not exceeding one-tenth of the price of similar land in California, an important consideration, as it will make a large difference in the amount of capital required.

From experiments already made on the land, the yield was found to be equal if not superior to that from land cultivated in the most favored localities on the most improved principles.

The percentage of saccharine matter, according to published records of European cultivators, gives 8 to 9 per cent. as the average; whereas in the Fraser Valley the percentage was 10 to 11; six-tenths being granulated sugar of very fine quality, and the remainder Molasses of fine flavor, a result unknown elsewhere.

This being the result on new land, and with the most imperfect appliance, it will be readily understood that with a proper system of cultivation and with proper machinery, the profits of the company will be very large.

The quantity of sugar imported into this Province for the year ending June 30th, 1872, was valued at over $100,000; the importations of molasses during the same period amounted to $18,000. It will, therefore, be seen that a ready market is open for all the sugar and molasses the company can produce. The pulp or refuse composes the best kind of food for fattening cattle during the winter months, when the highest prices are obtained for Beef, Mutton, &c.

The cost of labor, it is calculated, will be as low as in California, while the fuel and other materials, including the lumber for building, will be lower.

As the company proposes to commence operations on a limited scale at first, the Capital Stock has been fixed at $50,000, while power is reserved to the Shareholders to increase the working capital to $100,000, if considered desirable.

☞ Letters of allotments can be obtained from the Secretary of the Company at New Westminster and from the Bank of British Columbia, or Messrs. Robertson & Johnson, at Victoria.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S
(Ex Army Med Staff)

CHLORODYNE

IS THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

CAUTION—Vice-Chancellor Sir W P Wood stated that Dr. COLLIS BROWNE was undoubtedly the inventor of CHLORODYNE: that the story of the defendant, Freeman, being the inventor was deliberately untrue which he regretted had been sworn to. Eminent Hospital Physicians of London stated that Dr J Collis Browne was the discoverer of Chlorodyne: that they prescribe it largely and mean no other than Dr Browne's—See TIMES, July 12, 1864.

The Public therefore are cautioned against using any other than

DR J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE.

REMEDIAL USES AND ACTION.

This INVALUABLE REMEDY produces quiet, refreshing sleep, relieves pain, calms the nervous system restores the deranged functions and stimulates healthy action of the secretions of the body without creating any of those unpleasant results attending the use of opium. Old and young may take it at all hours and times when requisite. Thousands of persons testify to its marvelous good effects and wonderful cures while medical men extol its virtues most extensively using it in great quantities in the following diseases:—

Diseases in which it is found eminently useful—Cholera, Dysentery, Diarrhœa, Colics, Coughs, Asthma Cramp Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Cough, Hysteria, &c

The Right Hon Earl Russell communicated to the College of Physicians and J T Davenport that he had received information to the effect that the only remedy of any service in Cholera was Chlorodyne.—See Lancet Dec 31, 1864.

From A Montgomery, Esq., late inspector of Hospitals, Bombay: Chlorodyne is a most valuable remedy for Neuralgia, Asthma and Dysentery. To it I fairly owe my restoration to health after eighteen months severe suffering, and when other medicines had failed.

Dr Lowe, Medical Missionary in India reports [Dec 1865] that in nearly every case of Cholera in which Dr Collis Brownes' Chlorodyne was administered the patient recovered.

Extract from Medical Times, Jan 10, 1866—Chlorodyne is prescribed by scores of orthodox remedical practitioners. Of course it would not thus be singularly popular did it not supply a want and fill a place.

Extract from the general Board of Health, London, as to its efficacy in Cholera.—So strongly are we convinced of the immense value of this remedy that we cannot too forcibly urge the necessity of adopting it in all cases.

Beware of spurious and dangerous compounds sold as CHLORODYNE from which frequen tfatal results have followed.

See leading article, Pharmaceutical Journal, Aug 1, v869, which states that Dr J. Collis Browne was the inpentor of Chlorodyni: that it is always right to use his reparation when Chlorodyne is ordered.
